

April Diary 2007

Vicar's April Jottings

April looks to be quite a month especially with Easter near the beginning and the Annual Parochial Church Meeting at the very end. And just beyond the horizon of this month is our HT Centenary Flower Festival for which we still need volunteers to act as hosts...

A large proportion of the Gospels is given over to events leading up to and after Jesus' crucifixion. Sometimes the space between Palm Sunday and Easter Day seems simply too short to have room for all these events let alone the enormous swings in emotion. It's only a small start but this year, as well as the Good Friday Hour by the Cross and Churches Together march & service, we are holding a short service on each of the evenings of Monday to Thursday. These will give space for reflection and a chance to hear parts of the story as it unfolds. I hope many of you will try to make it to at least one of these as a way of absorbing more fully the realities of this season.

The APCM is always the time to look back and forwards. People are preparing their activity reports already. We're also having to renew our Electoral Roll, so if that's a form you've been meaning to fill in, don't forget. We'll also be voting at least 3 people onto the PCC: is God calling you to serve there? And as you read through the Annual Report when it comes out, please do that in a spirit of prayer: thanks for what God has been doing, strength for those who serve, wisdom for groups that are under pressure and openness as to what God might be calling you to be part of...

One final plug: there are several services after Easter where a baptism or thanksgiving is included. Can you consider making the sacrifice of coming to one of these even if it means not being at your 'favourite' service or even if it means coming to church twice in a morning?! These are such opportunities to show welcome and grace.

May The Risen Lord bless you this Eastertide

Nick Grew
