

February Diary 2007

Vicar's February Jottings

You may have been at a service recently where a Spirit-given picture was shared, or perhaps someone has talked with you about one. Through these pictures there has been a sense of God on the move or about to move. The picture Christina Hayhoe received illustrates this well:

I had this vision of God – God in all His power and majesty, wearing a cloak – a back view and he was striding through this land – and His church. There was a sense that we need to grab the hem of His cloak to keep up with him if we mean business in spreading the kingdom, and run with Him into the new things and blessings He has for us in the future. It was very real, very powerful and very exciting – it almost took my breath away.

God is always gracious and doesn't impose his will, but in giving us this news he is also inviting us as church and individuals to examine ourselves and decide whether we are going to respond or fall behind. I don't believe God wants any of us to fall behind. Nor do I believe he wants any of us to miss out on His blessings.

Our Mission Statement says, In Jesus becoming distinctive, through Jesus making a difference. Christine recently drew my attention to this piece from Philip Yancey's recent book on Prayer: I received a newsletter from "The Center for Action and Contemplation" and together those two words encompass most of what we are called to do in following Jesus. The founder of the centre says, "I have often told folks that the most important word in our title is not "action" nor even "contemplation", but "and".

The connection between action and contemplation, between seeking distinctiveness and making a difference, is a key. In this year we will face opportunities in the form of challenges and excitements. We will see new ways forward and we will celebrate, especially in the HT centenary, the abundance of God's blessings. I urge us all to seek to be involved with God and for God this year. Let's all hang onto his cloak, take the risk, wonder at God's grace, see people coming to know Jesus... and enjoy the ride!
