Vicar's March jottings

It's been so exciting to see how many people (180+) have taken up the chance to listen to the whole New Testament during Lent! I hope it will impact our lives individually but also that as we share the experience with one another our whole church community will be vitalised and challenged. As our Memory Verse for March says: Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly as you as you teach and admonish one another with all wisdom, and as you sing psalms, hymns and spiritual songs with gratitude in your hearts to God - Colossians 3v16

Past experience has shown how Church Weekends have also been times of personal and corporate growth. In the past we've gone away together and that has been a very uniting experience for those who've come. However, not everybody has felt able to come away. The PCC felt that, in the current economic climate, we would not go away for our Church Weekend this year. Being here gives a different set of challenges and opportunities but it does have the advantage of accessibility to everyone.

But to make that work, we all have to treat it as if we were going away! That means clearing our diaries and making the Church Weekend our priority. The weekend will begin on Friday October 23rd and run to the afternoon of October 25th. At this stage we're just beginning to make plans, but we do have a main speaker – Chris Neal. From his past parish experience and in his current job Chris is passionate that the Church rediscovers its true missional calling as individually and corporately Christians discover the significance of Jesus in deeper ways, and allow him to shape their lives and communities.

There's a leaflet with more information, but at this time what I'm asking you to do is to mark the Church Weekend in your diary now so that you don't miss out by making any other appointments. If you have ideas about what we might do that weekend or want to help with the planning, I'd be delighted to hear from you, but most of all I hope that as many of us as possible will make a point of being there together!
