Vicar's October jottings

A hotel executive tells this story: 'The hotel I manage is located near a renowned hospital. Recently, we noticed that a man and a boy were visiting regularly and surmised that they were father and son, and that the son was undergoing treatment at the hospital. One evening, the father sent the boy up to bed and called over the head waiter. "My son is about to start chemotherapy tomorrow," he said. "He's really upset at the prospect of his hair falling out, so he's decided to shave it all off tonight. I'm going to do the same to support my son. When you see us tomorrow morning, please don't react."

'The head waiter was touched by the story and briefed his colleagues. The next morning, father and son came down with bald heads, feeling rather nervous. But, as they went in to breakfast, they gradually realised they weren't the only ones who looked a bit different that day. No fewer than ten members of staff had shaved their heads out of solidarity with the boy.' The executive concluded, 'that is how my staff live the corporate value, "Show you care."

Understanding and signing up to the Mission of a body or organisation, especially a church, has consequences for everybody in it. Our church Mission and Vision are about to undergo a change, so I hope you've all had an invitation to the presentations on the 18th October. Please let Jo know if there's anybody we've missed. If you can't come we'd be glad to know so that we can get you a copy of what is being shared. It's going to be an exciting and significant step for our church so I look forward to seeing you there.
