Vicar's September jottings

I hope you can shake off any holiday stupor you may have because September is full of opportunities! We've made plans for HT Centenary [special services, a barn dance, Harvest ploughman's, exhibition], but it will all fall flat without you all coming and bringing friends & family with you. Please don't hold back from buying tickets for Barn Dance & Ploughman's. Equally, be thinking now whom you can invite to StS for 'Back to Church Sunday', or along to the Alpha Supper. These are wonderful and simple opportunities to bring honour to Our Lord. This month is one to see fruit borne for the Kingdom as well as on the trees!

PCC will also be making final decisions upon our Mission Partners this month. We want to be stimulated by these partnerships and I was struck by a paragraph from a friend who had attended the A Rocha conference in May. She wrote:

Zac Niringiye [Assistant Bishop in Kampala] was particularly challenging and I think left a lot of us thinking differently about issues by the end of the week. One of his most striking comments was that in the West we are very concerned about poverty in Africa, which we see as the problem and focus our efforts trying to fix. But he pointed out the problem of greed of the rich which has led to the inequality in resources... "The Gospel narratives don't have a problem with the poor. They are simply hungry!"... He asked whether we need a "Make Greed History" campaign?

Now there's a thought...
